

+Weekly Reflection on The Word of God

TWENTY-EIGHTH SUNDAY OF ORDINARY TIME

The theme of the Gospel is about loving God and loving our neighbors. This is truly God's will, and this is the most assured way of living lives that are anchored in God. It has been said that if "The Word of God" does not in some way challenge us, then we probably have missed its point. God challenges us in the same way that Jesus challenged the rich young man. He invites us to go beyond the rules with a faith that is unconditional. This means letting go of what is comfortable. It involves saying "no" to some things so that we might say "yes" to that which is more important. In other words, what would we be willing to give up if we could not have both it and God. Money? Prestige? Our health? Our family? Our life? No matter how much we hold on to what we think is precious, we will sooner or later have to give it up as well.
